Christine Padian Bolzan ’92

Christine Padian Bolzan ’92 has been helping young professionals chart their futures for over 20 years. As a Vice President at JP Morgan, she developed recruiting and training programs for the Markets businesses in the US, Europe, Latin America and Africa. She went on to become the Managing Partner of a Private Equity executive search firm, and later founded her current company: Graduate Career Coaching, which helps young professionals launch meaningful careers. Christine creates and delivers career development programming to individuals, as well as undergraduate and business schools in the US and abroad.